About Wildlife Care Center

Bird Alliance of Oregon's Wildlife Care Center is the largest and busiest rehabilitation facility in the region. We treat more than 4,000 injured and orphaned native animals each year, including birds, mammals, reptiles and amphibians, and educate tens of thousands of people about how to peacefully resolve conflicts with wildlife.

Wildlife Care Center Audience

The feel-good nature of providing injured and orphaned animals a second chance at life draws a large number of eyes to our work, and as a sponsor, your brand will be connected to that life-saving impact. Every year, more than 10,000 good samaritans find an animal in perceived distress and contact the Wildlife Care Center to understand what steps are needed for the animal. In addition to drawing in good samaritans, wildlife rehabilitation social posts draw in higher-than-average engagement numbers. When we host public releases, hundreds of people gather to witness the injured animal return to the wild. See more about our general audience and reach.
